INDIVIDUAL CODE OF CONDUCT

Noosa Community Radio is committed to providing a safe, healthy and stimulating work environment for its members, volunteers and contractors. As part of maintaining a collegial, pleasant and healthy working-place, I understand that members, volunteers and contractors can always expect to be treated with courtesy and respect.

I also acknowledge that it is the duty of each member, volunteer and contractor, to behave and speak in a manner which is polite and respectful and promotes the free-exchange of ideas without acrimony or bad feeling. Frequently speaking over others, belittling their contributions, or rejecting their contributions because of insufficient membership time and/or experience, are examples of behaviour that is neither wanted nor encouraged. They can result in referral to the Human Resources Committee.

Actions or speech which are demeaning, designed to exclude, are racist or sexist, or reject any member due to their origins, ethnicity or religion, or which denigrate a person's sexuality, or mode of dress, or physical or mental ill health, have no place in Noosa Community Radio and will not be tolerated.

No member is to act in a manner that is, or could be thought to be, physically intimidating, invasive of another's personal space, or sexually aggressive. The persistent use of bad or foul language will be regarded as offensive, as well as behaviour designed to exclude and intimidate.

Behaviour that falls below the standards referred to above can be referred to the Human Resources Committee and may result in termination of membership.

CONFIDENTIALITY AGREEMENT

I understand that during my volunteer duties I am likely to become party to all kinds of information about individuals and organisations that will be sensitive and must be treated as confidential. Examples of the information referred to are: home and email addresses, telephone numbers, bank account details, passwords, personal information about spouses and children, and any other personal or private information.

I acknowledge that I am not authorised to release any information of any type without written authority from one of the executive officers, and that I will report any attempts to obtain any kind of information by any person not authorised to obtain it.
